PETE THE LORIKEET

Don Spencer

Published by MCA-Gilbey

I've got a bird that visits me, he sits way up in the yonder tree,
Waits for me to find him things to eat.
And the bird that I am talking about is one you've probably heard about,
It's the one they call the Rainbow Lorikeet.
So I called him Pete the Lorikeet, and Pete the Lorikeet is neat.
When he's finally had enough to eat, he starts to sing his little song, and Pete the 'Keet goes on and on, and all that he can say is "Tweet, tweet."

Chorus

Tweet, Tweet! (Tweet, tweet!)

Tweet, Tweet! (Tweet, tweet!)

Tweet, Tweet! (Tweet, tweet!)

Goes Pete the Lorikeet.

Tweet, Tweet! (Tweet, tweet!)

Tweet, Tweet! (Tweet, tweet!)

Tweet, Tweet! (Tweet, tweet!)

Goes Pete the Lorikeet.

Pete the Lorikeet is sweet, so I decided he should meet
Daisy Duck who lives next door to me.
And they get on so famously - they sit and wait so patiently,
'Til I find their favourite food to eat.
And when at last they've had enough, oh Pete the 'Keet will strut his stuff,
Thankful for the food they've had to eat.
When Pete the 'Keet begins to sing, and Daisy Duck she joins in,
That bird symphony is complete!

Chorus x 2

Quack, Quack! (Quack, Quack!) go Daisy and Pete.
Tweet, Tweet! (Tweet, tweet!) goes Pete the Lorikeet
