THE SMART GALAH

Don Spencer/Allan Caswell

Published by MCA-Gilbey

Chorus

Ooh, ooh - he's a smart galah.
Ooh, ooh - he's a smart galah.
Hear him talk, or hear him sing.
That galah knows everything.

*I'm a galah and I'd like to explain,
I'm not very happy how they use my name,
If somebody's silly, or acting the fool,
He's called "a galah" as a general rule.*

*But why a galah? It's got me beat
Why not a rosella, or a lorikeet?
Y'know, in parrot society galahs are the cream,
So this use of my name is way off the beam.*

Chorus

*I don't think it's funny, I don't think it's fair.
A galah is a bird with such obvious flair!
When it comes to parrots, why pick on me?
Us galahs are right at the top of the tree.*

*Now you could use silly for a budgerigar,
Or a crow, or a magpie - well, some of them are!
But a silly galah? Ah - you have to agree
If you're insulting anyone, you're insulting me!*

Chorus

*Well that's about it, and now you know.
I'm a galah, and I want a fair go.
Next time you call someone "a silly galah",
You're only proving how silly you are!*

Chorus x 3
